

Journal Club

Charlie Young

SLAC

The Circular Electron Positron Collider – Physics Potential and Present Status

The Circular Electron Positron Collider, proposed by the Institute of High Energy Physics, Chinese Academy of Sciences, has as its primary goal the precision measurements of Higgs boson properties. This talk will discuss the physics program and the project's status.

Friday, May 6, 2016

4:00pm

301 Physical Sciences Bldg.

